I was a software tester for hire and just recently I got a job testing an APP called f Master Control Program. It promised to transform reality itself just by writing into its prompt window. Yeah right!

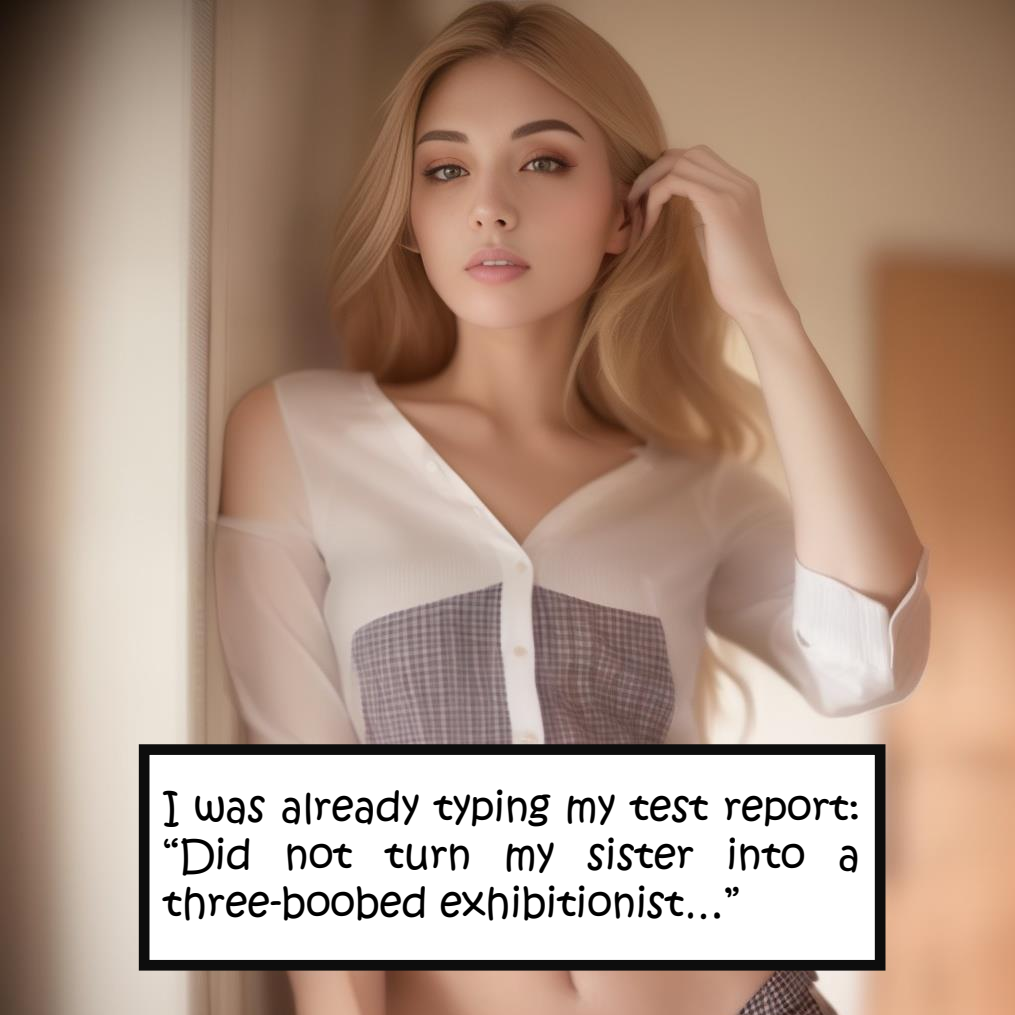

Hey, bro.
What's up?

Just a quick stupid test. You don't need to do anything.

Women don't wear clothes,
have three tits, and a constant urge to have them played with.

Enter

I was already typing my test report:
"Did not turn my sister into a three-boobed exhibitionist..."

But I stopped mid-typing...

You oka,y bro?

gulp Sis... Do you ever question why things are as they are?

Like what?

Like why do women have three breasts?

Gulp
And why do women not wear clothing?

No, I'm good.
Thanks!

Nature, Duh!
It's just the perfect alignment! A guy can suck on the middle one while kneading the other two with his hands!

DUH!
How else would we deal with our constant need to have our boobs played with?

If you don't have any real questions, I'll be going again...
unless you wanna play with my boobs?

Weirdo!

Now, with my sister leaving... instead of writing my test report I wrote...

I'm the only person able to use this software.

Then I looked up my old high school crush Kacey Reynolds and began typing for real...

The End.
